Eastern Kansas has an abundance of mature oil fields; many of these reservoirs still contain significant oil reserves. This workshop will investigate improving individual well productivity, potential for in-fill, step-out, or horizontal drilling, and application of enhanced oil recovery processes.

- How can you determine if a lease or reservoir may be a candidate for further reserve development?
- What sources of data are available and how may they be accessed?
- If additional reserves are present, what methods or processes of recovery should be applied?

These questions and others will be answered at the technology workshop in Chanute, Kansas, which will be hosted by the North Midcontinent PTTC on Thursday, September 14, 2006 from 2:00pm – 6:00pm. Dinner will be provided after the workshop. A fee of $35 per person will cover registration, manual and dinner. Dwayne McCune and Rodney Reynolds will conduct the workshop. This event is a great opportunity for operators, engineers and geologists to learn more about oil recovery potential in the Eastern Kansas area. Registrations will be accepted by phone, fax, mail, or e-mail. To pre-register complete the form below and mail or fax it to the North Midcontinent Resource Center. Pre-registration is encouraged, but registrations will also be accepted at the door on September 14th.
