

PLATE 34. Geologic map of Kansas and surrounding states. The areas of outcrops of rocks belonging to the geologic systems are dependent mainly on regional structure, topography, and the thickness of the systems. This distribution affects local ground-water conditions importantly.