

PLATE VIII.—Pressure decline curves of the Colony townsite field and the Polkinghorn field. The latter curve is included in the same graph to allow comparison of the decline of fields in which the wells were located at different distances from each other. The townlot well was on the 40-acre tract that held 31 gassers.