Fig. 4--Thickness of the Bonnette dolomite in Kansas at the close of Early Ordovician time.

EXPLANATION

Thickness contour interval – 50 feet

- Location of wells used
- Additional wells used

Areas where Upper Cambrian and Lower Ordovician rocks are absent by reason of post-Cotter erosion

Contours modified by Wallace Lee on basis of additional data